dggö
SPECIAL AWARD 2022

The German Health Economics Association (dggö) awards a prize of €5,000 to the

BEST HEALTH ECONOMICS PAPER RELATED TO THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

published or accepted for publication in a peer-reviewed scientific journal. Researchers from across the globe are eligible to apply for this prize. We welcome papers on topics including but not limited to

· Evaluating the impact of non-pharmaceutical interventions
· Economic and societal costs and benefits of policy responses to the pandemic
· Modelling pandemics and its impact on the health care sector
· Individual and societal risk perception
· Vaccination: take-up, equity, and efficiency
· Indirect health effects of the pandemic
· Impact of the pandemic on health behavior and self-protection
· Challenges of Covid-19 to health systems

Articles need to make a significant contribution to studying the current Covid-19 pandemic. Research on other epidemics is not eligible for this prize.

The prize will be delivered and presented in a public ceremony at the dggö Annual Conference 2022 in Hamburg. Applicants should submit their paper until December 31, 2021 by email to: covid19-award@dggoe.de dggö special award committee:

Chair: Hendrik Jürges, University of Wuppertal, Past President of dggö
Co-Chair: Dorte Gyrd-Hansen, University of Southern Denmark, Odense, President of EuHEA
Marlies Ahlert, Martin Luther University Halle-Wittenberg
Norma B. Coe, University of Pennsylvania, Leonard Davis Institute of Health Economics
Robert Nuscheler, University of Augsburg, Past President of dggö
Pedro Pita Barros, Nova School of Business & Economics, Lisbon, Past President of EuHEA